FOR LEAVING COMPANY BI

SAN FRANCISCO, May 23,-In granting the application of the United Railroads company for permission to borrow money to purchase rolling stock, the State Railroad commission issued a statement denunciatory of the financial methods of Patrick Calhoun, former president of the company.

The commission asserts that Calhoun before retirement "took from the funds of this public utility corporation over a million dollars when every available dollar was sorely needed to increase the facilities of this company." That he gave his successor, Jesse Lilienthal, his promissory note for $1,960,000, which Lillenthal wrote on the books of the company "as value one dollar." The million which Calhoun is charged with diverting from the funds of the company were used, the commission asserts, promoting the "Solano Irrigated Farms," a subdivision project which collapsed. "The whole transaction is a fraud," says the commission, "not only upon the public, which is dependent upon this utility for its street car service, but also upon the bond and noteholders of this

The commission finds "Calhoun and the stockholders joined in this plunder," which was thorized by resolution of the directors, "at the expense of the public and the company's creditors."
